

1.3.1

Institution integrates crosscutting issues relevant to Professional Ethics, Gender, Human Values, Environment and Sustainability into the Curriculum

List and description of courses which address the Gender, Environment and Sustainability, Human Values and Professional Ethics into the Curriculum

| Core course | Course(s) Name | Cross cutting issue(s) | Description of course(s) |
|----------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| BA Political Science | I. Feminism: Theory and Practice II. Human Rights in Comparative Perspective III. Perspective on Public Administration IV. Gender, Human Rights and Environment | Gender, Human Rights, Environment and Sustainability | The course covers feminism, Gender and violence in different countries of the world, theories and concepts of patriarchy etc. which sensitize students different gender issues. The course is also enriched with ecological approaches in public administration. |
| BA Economics | I. Indian Economy II. Development Economics III. Economics of Health & Education IV. Money & Financial Markets V. Environmental Economics | Human Values, Professional Ethics & Environment & Sustainability | The course is enriched with issues related to human values like poverty, unemployment, human capital formation, role of health and education in economic development and related issues. The professional ethics in banking, stock market and other financial institutions are covered in the course. A detailed discussion on relation between economy and environment for sustainable development is well designed in this undergraduate course. |

1.3.1

Institution integrates crosscutting issues relevant to Professional Ethics, Gender, Human Values, Environment and Sustainability into the Curriculum

| | | | |
|---------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| BA Education | I. Philosophical Foundations of Education II. Great Educators & Educational Thoughts III. Emerging Trends in Indian Education IV. Human Rights Education | Gender, Human Values, Environment & Sustainability | The course acquaints students about the value of education, education for peace and development, women education, education for women empowerment, challenges and importance of environmental education. |
| BA Sociology | I. Indian Society: - Images and Realities II. Rethinking Development III. Religion and Society | Gender, Human Values & Professional Ethics | The course covers gender through the sociological point, examines the ideas of development from social and interdisciplinary perspective and acquaints students with a sociological understanding of religion. |
| BA Philosophy | I. Indian Ethics II. Meta-Ethics III. Philosophy of Feminism IV. Applied Ethics | Professional ethics, Gender, Environment and Sustainability | The course intends to acquaint students with the basic ethical concepts of society including professional ethics, environmental ethics etc. Moreover, in this course certain topics relevant to gender issues like feminism, Sexuality and gender, violence against women are also addressed. |
| BA History | I. Women in Indian History | Gender | The course covers history of feminist movement, Women's status in different periods, Social customs and reforms, development of women organization and Women, Society and Patriarchy in Medieval Assam. |
| BA English | I. British Poetry and Drama | Gender & | The course addresses different aspects of |

1.3.1

Institution integrates crosscutting issues relevant to Professional Ethics, Gender, Human Values, Environment and Sustainability into the Curriculum

| | | | |
|----------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| | II. American Literature III. Popular Literature IV. British Literature: 19 th Century V. Women's Writing | Human Values | human life and specifically focuses upon individual's relationship with the society. It also brings light to the new aspects like gender and sexuality. |
| BA Assamese | I. History of Assamese Literature II. Communicative Assamese III. Introduction to Linguistics IV. Assamese Prose V. Assamese Culture VI. Assamese Drama | Human Values, Gender & Professional Ethics | The course covers the contribution of women in Assamese literature and also intends to develop language skills, human values relating to culture, philosophical ethics, socio-economic values & reform issues of Assamese society & culture. |
| BA Mathematics | I. Calculus II. Differential Equations III. Partial Differential Equation & Ordinary Differential Equations IV. Linear Programming | Human values | This course helps to formulate mathematical models of real-life problems |
| BA Hindi | I. Hindi Sahitya ka Itihas II. Hindi Natak Evam Ekanki III. Hindi Nibandhya Evam Anya Gadya Vidhan IV. Asamiya Sahitya Ka Parichayatmak Itihas | Human Values & Gender | The history and present position of Hindi literature and social, economic, moral and emotional values of women are well reflected in different drama, poems and prose. |
| B A Bengali | I. History of Bengali Literature II. Bangla Kabya - Prachin, Madhya & Adunik Yug III. Natak, Natya Sahityer | Gender, human Values, Environment & Sustainability | The course addresses different aspects of human life. Human nature, morality, ideology and specially focusses on individual's relationship with the society. It also brings light to the aspects |

1.3.1

Institution integrates crosscutting issues relevant to Professional Ethics, Gender, Human Values, Environment and Sustainability into the Curriculum

| | | | |
|-------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| | Rupved O Bangla Natak IV. Adunik Bangla Kabita V. Chhotogolpa, Rabindranather Chhotogolpa, Bishshotoker Bivinno Chhotogolpa | | like gender,sexuality, environment and sustainable development. |
| BA Sanskrit | I. Classical Sanskrit Literature II. Self-Management in the Gita III. Indian Social Institutions and Polity IV. Art of Balanced Living V. Environmental Awareness in Sanskrit Literature | Human Values, Environment & Sustainability | The course is a great teaching on human values like Nitisatakam, self-management, controlling the mind, dharma, social values of life, self-presentation, concentration, refinement of behavior etc. It also covers and give knowledge about the environmental awareness in Vedic and Classical Sanskrit literature |
| B.COM | I. Business & Law II. Human Resource Management III. Financial Management IV. Principles of Marketing V. Income Tax Law & Practice | Professional Ethics, Environment & Sustainability, Human Values | The course covers in detail analysis of issues related to professional ethics and human values like elements of valid contract, legality, employees health and safety, filing of tax return on time etc. The environmental issues related to sale and purchase of urban agricultural land is also described in details in the course. |